Alma Mater
The halls of old Erwin,
We hold you so dear,
Your stately walls beckon
For us to come near.
You hold for us memories
We hope to recall,
We know we'll remember,
Remember them all.

The halls of old St. Mary's
They hold many trophies.
We've fought for and won them,
With glory and strife.
The hallowed halls are
The symbols of glory
For us who do hail you,
Do hail you all through life!

Foreword

Come Commencement Day, the Senior Class of 1965 will cease to be a functioning part of Erwin High School. When our time of departure arrives, we hope to leave behind us much of ourselves. We trust that our trials and achievements, as well as our attempts and defeats, will be engraved on the history of our Alma Mater with our sweat, tears, and smiles.

Time tolls heavily on our hands until suddenly we realize that soon the tangible will become intangible... the good times will become memories, and many ties will be broken. For many, this is the last...

...of really belonging. New faces will begin to thrive under the steady hands of our teachers. Soon that which was so much ours will fade away with time and distance...

Realizing, however, that the most tangible evidence of our presence within these halls is this, the 1965 HOURGLASS, we have endeavored to enclose within its covers the highlights of our high school career. We offer these events as memories for our classmates and also as promises that what we have obtained through our experiences here will serve us well.

With great pleasure and immense pride, the Senior Class presents the 1965 HOURGLASS - - a MEMORY and a PROMISE.

"Seniors!??"... Senora... Class Sponsor... concerned ... dead-line setter... annual staff boss... understanding ... Blue Horse collector..."To thine own self be true."

One of our most treasured privileges as Seniors is that of recognizing those adults who have had the most influence on us during our high school years. For this honor, we have selected those who throughout these years have been a source of much of our inspiration.

Our MEMORIES would be quite insufficient and indeed meaningless without mention of their most important and influential part in our lives. They have made their talents available to us not only in the classroom but also through our various organizations and athletic activities. Their encouragement and sincere interest in us have been the strengthening factor to our chain of memories.

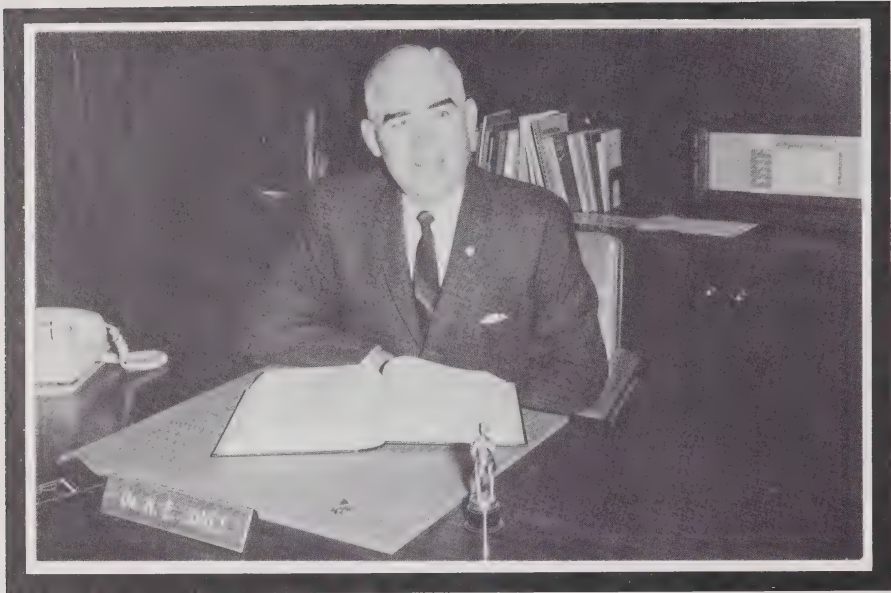

MR. WILLIAM C. CORBETT

E.H.S.'s eligible bachelor... inevitably late... Beta Sponsor... "Coach"... Chief-surgeon (of frogs)... school spirit... Wake Forest... ex-Greenwave... "It matters not if you won or lost, it's how you played the game."

The sweetest lives are those to duty wed,
Whose deeds both great and small
Are close-knit strands of an unbroken thread,
Where love ennobles all.
The world may sound no trumpets, ring no bells,
The Book of Life the slurring record tells.

The Senior Class of 1965 wishes to dedicate this edition of the HOURGLASS to Mrs. Edna M. Parker and Mr. William C. Corbett trusting that it will begin to repay in some small way the boundless debt we owe them.

FLIGHT 365

Dear Seniors:

Now that you are about ready to be graduated from high school, you are almost ready to take your first solo flight into the unpredictable future. As your flight instructor, it is my job to pass on a few pointers before your take-off.

The flight ahead may or may not be an easy one. Perhaps you may have rough air to navigate, perhaps a few forced landings, but whatever lies ahead, your trip will be more smooth if you will navigate by these instruments.

First, the Compass of Courage. You must have courage to take a tough job and do it well, courage to set your standards high, courage to live by those standards no matter what the rest of the crowd say or do, and courage to set a good example. Anyone can drift, but it takes real courage to stick up for what you know in your heart is right. Check your compass often.

Second, the Automatic Pilot--Patience. Without this instrument you cannot fly a straight and level course. You must have patience to see things through to completion. If everything you have worked for seems to fail, patience will help you to pick up the pieces, and try again and again until you succeed. The only failure is in no longer trying. There is a right time and place for everything. Have patience to wait for the opportunities God gives us all.

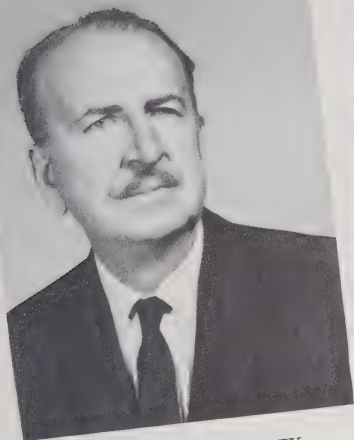

Third, the Altimeter of Faith. With this instrument you can soar to any height. You must have faith in yourself, first of all, to believe that you can handle yourself in any challenge life hands you. This is half the battle. Have faith in the future, in your church, and in your family and friends. Help them to have faith in you too. There will be times when even these instruments seem to fail. It is then that you must radio to Head Control Tower Operator for directions. Trust Him. He will keep you on the beam no matter how rough the weather becomes.

Now it's time to turn the controls over to you. I wish you a smooth, swift flight and happy landings.

Student

As we begin to display our storehouse of memories, we wish to begin by a timely salute to you, our schoolmates, for it is by your presence here that our leaving is not so sad. While the Class of '65 will pass out to the world of responsibility, E.H.S. will continue in its timeless task of imparting knowledge, for you will remain. You will continue our antics and you will take up our pursuit for the answer to success here. You will fill our seats, ask our questions, take our tests (thank you!), and receive our honors.

While you are part of the future without us at Erwin High School, you are also very much a part of our past. Possibly more so here than at a larger school, our realm of friends includes students from all classes. For this reason, you will be more prominent in our thoughts than events will. You have shared our good times and our tears. You know our near escapes, our desires, and our fears. Because you know our worst and our best, you will be doubly important to us throughout life as we endeavor to forget the worst and remember the best, yet never quite succeed.

On the following pages are many pictures, each face symbolic of MEMORIES ETERNALLY treasured.

MEMORIES

Our paths are paved with memories
Of dear old Erwin High,
And still we turn back yearning
And give but just a sigh.

In our caps and gowns and class rings
We'll meet, but not for long,
Receive our deserved diplomas,
Then sing our farewell song.

The years were filled with pleasures
And many yet untold.
Experiences and knowledge
To underclassmen will unfold.

Our years were few, yet many,
So now we're on our way
To greet the future with promises
And to the past repay.

We'll miss the halls of Erwin
We've each walked many times,
But most of all we'll miss our friends--
Twelve years is such a short time.

Class Poet

Parents' Page

As seniors, we spend much time reflecting on our past. Memories are now the only means by which we can relive these important occasions. We have made many friends and have learned much, with each friend and each lesson leading us to brighter experiences. One circumstance, and one alone, has remained invariable. This is the never ceasing love, devotion, and guidance of you, our parents and guardians. Nothing we attempted was too small or unimportant to escape your attention or be beyond your concern. No honor did we win that your joy and pride did not equal our own. No defeat did we suffer that your sympathy and confidence in our ability was not more than sufficient to compensate us for our efforts.

At this time, the Senior Class of 1965 wishes to express by the dedication of this page in the HOURGLASS, our deep felt gratitude for the love which brought us here and advanced us to this moment in our lives. With this, we offer to you all our unspoken thoughts of love and our promise that your best image will live in us from now until eternity.

The Years That Were

In 1951, a group of excited and frightened children entered Erwin School to begin their formal education. Some clung desperately to their mothers' skirts while others were just happy to be grown up enough to be going to school at last.

The days of not being able to go from our classroom to the swings without getting lost were soon forgotten as the years quickly went by.

Before we knew what was really happening, the years as elementary students were over and we entered high school as nervous, lost, and excited as we had been when we had first come to school nine years before. Eager to take our place, we elected the following class officers: President, Fraley Bost; Vice-President, A.F. Lee; Secretary, Ann Coleman; and Treasurer, Wayne Matthews. Class sponsors were Mr. Tommy Davis, Mrs. David Pope, Mrs. Emily Thomas, and Mr. John Pecora. Our class was well represented on the athletic teams during the freshman year. Other students became members of various clubs and organizations on campus. Several of our boys were tapped into the Key Club and Lauren W. Campbell was a Varsity Cheerleader. Tommi West won the E.R. Thomas Award at the end of the year for the highest average in high school.

We began our sophomore year with more confidence and less confusion by electing the following class officers: President, Danny Sawyer; Vice-President, James Jernigan; Secretary, Janet Bowers; Treasurer, Ray Jackson. Fifteen members of the class were awarded for their outstanding work by being tapped into the Beta Club. Mary Ennis was chosen Varsity Sweetheart and other members were elected officers of various organizations. Our capable advisors were Mrs. N.E. Jones, Mrs. Dorothy Lambert, Mr. A.H. Dunning, and Mr. William C. Corbett. Tommi West, Charlotte Crawford, Jennifer Godwin, Debbie Hall, Lauren Campbell, Conni Surles, Jatana Wilson, Kenny Godwin, Danny Sawyer, A.F. Lee, Coy Blackmon, and Dan Bryant served as waiters and waitresses at the Junior-Senior Prom. Charlotte Crawford and Jatana Wilson joined Lauren Campbell as Varsity Cheerleaders. Many awards were presented at the end of the year to members of the class for their outstanding work during the year. Tommi West won the E.R. Thomas Award, Mathematics Award, and the Biology Award. Judy Horne won the Home Economics Award for Proficiency and the Public Speaking Award.

All of a sudden one of the most important years of our school career had arrived. We immediately began to make our junior year one to be remembered. Danny Sawyer and Robert West were elected Co-Editors of the HI-LITE. Tommi West was elected secretary of the Student Council; Danny Sawyer, vice-president; and James Jernigan, sergeant-at-arms. Our advisors for the year were Miss Judy Jackson, Mr. Tommy Davis, Mr. C.L. Eaddy, and Mrs. Sarah Hudson. Officers for the year were President, Ricky Manning; Vice-President, Kenneth Godwin; Secretary, Tommi West; and Treasurer, Dan Bryant. Sue Phillips and Debbie Hall were cheerleaders. The spring of our junior year will always hold many memories for this was the time for our class play "Here Comes Charlie" in which Sandra Byrd and Donnie Weeks played the leading roles. On May 8, the gymnasium was transformed into a lovely Japanese garden in accord with our theme "Sayonara." When the hour of twelve came, we took with us not only wind chimes, flowers, and Japanese lanterns, but memories of our prom to last forever. Kay Johnson was elected to represent our class in the Dunn Christmas Parade. Marshals for the year were Tommi West, chief, Tommy Stewart, Sue Phillips, Judy Horne, Ann Coleman, Robert West, Danny Sawyer, Fraley Bost, and Lauren Campbell. Everyone agreed that the year had been a successful one and at the end of the year, Tommi West won the Mathematics Award and the Science Award and for the third time, the E.R. Thomas Award. Judy Horne again won the Home Economics Award. Danny Sawyer won the Public Speaking Award.

"At last we were Seniors!" How wonderful it was to repeat that sentence to ourselves. Realizing that this was the all important year for us at Erwin High School, we began to work hard to make it a successful one. The following were elected as class officers: President, Ricky Manning; Vice-President, Johnny Woodruff; Secretary, Judy Horne; Treasurer, Dan Bryant; and Sgt.-at-Arms, Max Vann. Editors for the HOURGLASS were Tommi West and Ann Coleman. Mrs. Edna Parker, Mr. Tommy Davis and Mr. Mike Kelley served as faculty advisors. Danny Sawyer was elected president of the Student Council. Tommi West was chosen to receive the DAR Citizenship Award. Fraley Bost and Tommy Stewart were chosen as candidates for the Morehead Scholarship. Judy Horne served as county president of the F.H.A. and Ann Coleman served as president of the F.B.L.A. Tri-captains of the football team were Tommy Stewart, Fraley Bost, and Jimmy Stephenson. Ann Coleman and Tommi West were chosen co-captains of the girl's basketball team, A.F. Lee and Ricky Manning were co-captains of the boy's team. Jatana Wilson served as Chief Cheerleader with Charlotte Crawford as Co-chief. All-Conference football players were Tommy Stewart, Fraley Bost, and Max Vann. Conni Surles was chosen as Homecoming Queen. A.F. Lee served as president of the Key Club and Fraley Bost as president of the Beta Club. We chose Sherry Lamberth to be our Miss Merry Christmas representative and Jatana Wilson represented the Spanish class. The HOURGLASS Court was chosen by the senior class. They were Ann Coleman, Tommi West, Susan Ennis, Charlotte Crawford, Jatana Wilson, Sherry Lamberth, Kay Johnson, Sylvia Turnage, and Hannah Carpenter. From these girls, the faculty chose our HOURGLASS Queen and two maids of honor.

Many memories were made as the time quickly passed away leading to our graduation day--memories that will never cease to be in our hearts and minds--for these were the years that were--years never to be forgotten.

Class Prophecy

Time: June 1, 1975

Place: Gypsy Fortune Teller's Tent

As we enter, we see a small group around a very short stout man. He is dressed in a robe and head piece. As we begin to scramble a bit more to hear what he is saying, we have the usual remarks of "doubt." Then the gypsy begins to speak to the spectators. "I have heard some of your remarks. Before you begin your requests, I would like to prove to you that I am not a fake by calling the names of my spectators: Ginny Horne, Joan Lee, Brenda Addison, Janice West, Al Thompson, Johnny Long, Frances Tadlock, Sherrill Hall, Mary Ennis, and Dolores Simmons."

"This is amazing!"

"How does he know my name?"

With a warm smile, the gypsy spoke, "Now that I have convinced you, my friends, please come closer and look into my crystal ball that knows the future. You may ask any questions you like." As he puts the crystal ball in the center of the small table before him, his guests gather around very closely. Quietly, everyone stares at the ball full of intense expectation. Then all of a sudden, a figure begins to appear.

"Look, that's the beach!"

"Yea! Hey, look at those surfers on the shore line. Isn't that Ray Jackson, Odell McDonald and David Stephenson? I hear they were asked to take a part in the next presentation of 'The Life of a Surfer'."

"They've put their boards down and are running. Where are they going?"

"Well, will you look at that! It's Sue Phillips and Susan Ennis on summer vacation from work. As usual everyone is gathered around to hear them sing. They always did have beautiful voices."

"What's happening?"

"The picture is changing!"

"Look! Aren't those newspapermen Bill Bass, Earl House and Brooks Howard?"

"It certainly is! And look what they are doing. They are interviewing those famous Pro-football players Max Vann, Jimmy Stephenson and Tommy Stewart."

"Here comes the girl reporter for the press, Sondra Warren. Who's names are those she has underscored?"

"That's Kay Johnson and Brenda Thomas. It's an ad informing the public of the new Beauty Salon owned and operated by these two girls. They were forever finding new ways to fix their hair!"

"Speaking of designing, isn't that Ricky Manning, James Morrison, and Robert Smith admiring their newly built hospital?"

"And look who is about to enter the hospital. I'm positive that is Doctor Tommi West and her head nurse, Ann Coleman. They are being met at the entrance by the prosperous dentist, Donnie Weeks. Their interest in others was always an admirable trait!"

The image is changing again, and it is evident that we are at a stock car race.

"Those drivers are certainly familiar looking. Look everyone, that is Mike Williams, Tony Tyndall and Glenn Avery with their mechanics, James Ennis, Billy Moran, and Larry Davis. I believe they have car oil in them instead of blood; they love cars so much."

"Look at that modern station! The station attendants look very pleased with their positions."

"That's Thomas Norris, Charles Crane and Steve Stewart. Serving the public always satisfied them."

"Would you look at this!"

"Why, that's Erwin High School! It certainly has changed a lot, but it's been a long time since I last saw it."

"Look who the teachers are! That is Sandra Byrd, Charlotte Crawford, Judy Horne, and Margaret Oldham."

"Those girls really did work hard to become teachers, I'll bet. And they always did love F.H.S. and look who is the new school secretary. It's Julia Ivey! I understand Joyce Stewart leaves her housework to help in the office when needed."

"The picture is changing again!"

"Yes, and aren't those the homes of Mrs. Cathy Ammons, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Avery (nee Phyllis Autry), Mrs. Lauren Campbell, who is also a teacher now, Mrs. Lois Capps, Mrs. Jane Coats, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith (nee Elaine Dorman), Mrs. Tonda Fowler, now a very successful businesswoman, Mrs. Jean Matthews, Mrs. Patty Raynor Turner, and Mrs. Hannah Carpenter Denny, who is a successful secretary and housewife. Their contentment with the same boy always did amaze me!"

"There's the Dunn Theatre!"

"Who are those in the suits and ties?"

"Those are the new managers, I'll bet."

"If it is, it's Larry Byrd, Wayne Byrd, and Charles Norris."

"Oh! Look! There is a picture of Jennifer Godwin and Connie Surles on the marquee. They are co-stars in that movie. They always were in the limelight of the world."

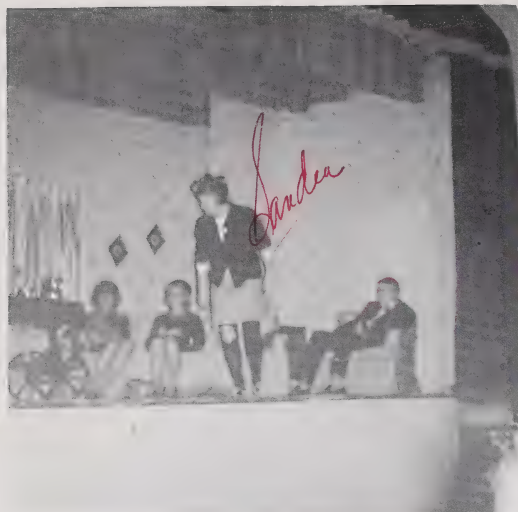

"Who is that artist and those two models over there?"

"That looks like Michael Ennis and the fashion models, Barbara Ralph and Deborah Hall."

"It is!"

"You know, those two girls always did catch the eye of every boy in school."
 "Would you look who's coming!"
 "It's those two successful businessmen, Simon Allen and Clifton Holland."
 "I heard it was they who gave Edna Burnside her break in writing."
 "I also heard they helped Jatana Wilson get her position as a fashion designer."
 "How do you like that? Two private secretaries of their own."
 "Who are they?"
 "That's Brenda Stewart and Kay Porter."
 As the crystal ball continues to move on, the KAG-Hamilton Estate comes into our view.
 "Who are those two prosperous-looking men on the lawn?"
 "That's Kenny Godwin and Steve Hamilton. All they do now is sit around and go hunting."
 "Look at those two men coming up the walk of the estate. Why, they are the two well-known diplomats from the United Nations, Danny Sawyer and Fred Alford. They make a weekly visit just to relax and take it easy at the estate."
 "Listen to that music! That looks like Sylvia Turnage playing the piano."
 "It is."
 "She always did play beautifully."
 "The ball is changing again."
 "Look where it is now."
 "The A&P!"
 "Yes, and look who is sitting behind that desk, with "Manager" written on the door."
 "That's Coy Blackman. He's one person that worked his own way to the top."
 "What is this coming into view? It looks like a college."
 "Yea, and look who the math professor is."
 "That's Fraley Bost."
 "The way he and Mrs. Thomas got along, he couldn't be anything except a math teacher."
 As the ball continues to move on into the future we are now in view of a football field.
 "That's a University football field."
 "Yes, and look who those coaches are!"
 "That's Johnny Woodruff, Scott Stephens, and James Jernigan who were always interested in sports."
 "And there is a vague image of a gymnasium,--wait, there's Gloria Godwin, head of the Girls' Physical Education Department."
 The ball seems to be changing once again.
 "Hey, what is this?"
 "It's the EDSULLIVAN SHOW. What's going on? Everyone is rolling down the aisle, laughing."
 "Well, no wonder! Patsy Tyson is his guest star. Her wit is overwhelming."
 "Who's that sitting in the audience with the furs and diamond rings that look so familiar?"
 "It looks like--well sir, it is! That's Juliana Denning and Carolyn Benson. They met the riches of life together, as usual."
 "Someone said they had a portrait of themselves in their home done by the famous Sherry Lamberth. Her paintings sell very well, so I hear."
 "Look! The ball is changing again and it looks like the inside of a radio station."
 "It is! The Dunn Radio Station, but it has been remodeled."
 "Is that who I think it is?"
 "If you think it is Johnny Moore announcing, you are right!"
 "Well, isn't that Jackie Davis and Gracie Duquette as his secretaries?"
 "Yea! And they both show efficiency in everything they do."
 "By the way, I heard that Jean Wilkerson took a business course and did very well. Now she has joined the Peace Corps to share her learnings."
 "Jean's kindness will certainly be appreciated in one of those underdeveloped areas of the world."
 "Well!", said the fortune teller, "the show is over. It is time for my next guests."
 We all turn to leave with amazement written all over our faces. As we make our exit we run into a crowd of people that look mighty familiar.
 "It's the old gang!"
 "Yea, that's A.F. Lee, Larry McLamb, Jerry Gautier, Dot Hawley and Joseph Harper."
 They did not recognize us because we went out one door and they were going into another one.
 "Wait a minute. Who are those two girls over there?" "Gee whiz, that's Evelyn Horton and Barbara Taylor. They surely do look good, and I understand they are planning to marry soon."
 We had only gone but a few paces when it dawned on us that the gypsy looked familiar.
 "Why, he looks just like Dan Bryant--but that's impossible, he is still trying to learn to drive a school bus without hitting something."
 "If they only knew!"

Remember the Key Club initiation... the Beta Song sung just a little off key... selling football programs in a mud puddle for the F.B.I.A... working on the Student Council float until one a.m... the F.H.A. fashion show... those yearly Monogram meetings ... remember?

Remember the character built... the leadership encouraged... the service rendered... the scholastic standing demanded... the responsibility taken ... the fellowship shared ... the pleasure taken in a job well-done ... remember??

In recent years our educational institutions have risen from their "book-learnin'" status to a standard of education that encourages many phases of the well-rounded person. For this reason, the Seniors of '65 will not only have many MEMORIES, but will each day, in each association, utilize the personality these memories have built.

Many years from now when memory has dimmed and the now familiar thoughts have passed from mind, our most outstanding visions of our years spent here promise to center on the times of pageantry and show.

Homecoming is always the highlight of our fall season. Then in the spring the event of the year occurs with the annual Junior-Senior Prom. Both of these events are characterized by the timeless desire to dress-up and pretend that we have possessed since the toddling stage.

These social events allow us to express our appreciation for the dressy and fantastical storyland world of all children, regardless of age. Long remembered will be the Shangri-la created at our Junior Prom, the breathless waiting for the naming of the Queen and that party shared with the then very special one.

A pretty girl... a handsome guy... a MEMORY.

We Are!

It is said that everything has a beginning. As members of Erwin School, we had our beginning here in September 1951. While it is quite difficult for a sophisticated (?) senior to believe that he or she was ever a squirming, timid six-year old, we have been taught that this is a very natural evolution.

Our MEMORIES of these years are somewhat dim possibly from our wish to conceal them. However, they are equally, if not more important in shaping our present personalities than our later years. The lessons that were learned will be remembered long after the valence of PO_4 , the square of 291, or the present perfect tense of "do" have been forgotten.

For this reason, we present to you those who at this time hold our places in the grammar school--the future student body of Erwin High School.

Contained within the next pages are the names of those individuals and businesses who so willingly aided us in the quite necessary but occasionally worrisome job of financing our annual. We wish to offer them our great appreciation and hope that the quality of our work will express our gratitude to them.

We also feel that it is quite appropriate to add to our MEMORIES these businesses which have added much to our high school years. Most of them have been called upon to aid us on various projects and have responded readily. They feel, as we do, that by supporting our school, they give the future a push up the ladder of success. For this we thank them!

In Memoriam

MR. C. A. JACKSON, JR.

With unrelenting crescendo, the symphony of a life replete with melodic progression hastened to its finale. And a friendship that is ours to share, with its "largos" and "allegros" moves everlastingly onward in sweet memories.

As a token of its appreciation for his patience, unselfishness, sincerity, devotion, and for both the tangible and intangible services which he has rendered in behalf of the Erwin High School, the Senior Class of 1965 leaves the HOURGLASS in memory of Mr. C. A. Jackson, Jr.

Your stately walls beckon
For us to come near.
You hold for us memories
